

The free-standing stone Apaiser Haven bath in Cotton boasts smooth, flowing lines.

FIVE-STAR SANCTUARY

With a spectacular view and luxurious stone bathware, this space offers the promise of pampering and pure indulgence

When you're staying in a sumptuous five-star retreat, there's a certain level of comfort and style you expect to enjoy. That's why designer Rick Bzowy of Bzowy Architecture went all out to create a private oasis when designing and building The Lair, new luxurious self-contained accommodation overlooking Great Oyster Bay along Tasmania's east coast.

This coastal getaway features two identical bedroom suites, each with its own spacious bathroom where guests can rest, relax and take in the wonderful views. Consisting of two rooms – one with a freestanding Apaiser stone bathtub, walk-in shower, bidet and toilet; the other a powder room with twin vanities, a makeup bench and wardrobes – the spacious bathing areas flow out to a large deck that offers ocean views. Elevated automated awning windows have also been incorporated into the design to provide views of the lush forest surroundings, bringing the outside in.

With a desire to create a haven from the outside world, selecting the perfect bathware for this space was of the utmost importance. The beautiful free-standing stone Apaiser Haven bath in Cotton certainly fits the bill.

Elegant and opulent, this tub instantly catches the eye when entering the room. Although the space is ultra-modern in style, the bath's smooth, flowing lines, oval curves and neutral tones soften the bathroom's sleek style. The organic look of the stone composite bath also complements the natural beauty of the surrounding environment. A generous walk-in shower with a frameless shower screen, grey porcelain tiling and a custom-made vanity add to this bathroom's luxurious feel. Keeping in mind the comfort and wellbeing of guests, underfloor and in-ceiling heating was incorporated into the bathrooms, while lighting solutions, including vanity lights and LED feature lighting, softly illuminate the space when the sun goes down. KBQ
